FROM THE PASTOR

We celebrate Palm Sunday this weekend. Palm Sunday marks the beginning of Holy Week, which is the most important time in the Christian calendar. It is a day that is celebrated with great joy and enthusiasm all over the world, marking the triumphant entry of Jesus into Jerusalem. Palm Sunday is a time to reflect on the message of love, humility, and sacrifice that Jesus preached during his life.

In recent times, the celebration of Palm Sunday has taken on new significance in light of the numerous challenges that we face as a global community. One of the most pressing issues that we face today is the epidemic of mass shootings that continue to plague our society. We are also grappling with the consequences of climate change, which threatens to have catastrophic effects on our planet and our way of life. Palm Sunday invites us to reflect on our responsibility as stewards of the earth and to consider the ways in which we can take action to protect the environment and safeguard the future for generations to come.

The image of Jesus entering Jerusalem on a donkey in today's Passion Reading holds a particular significance in the context of today's political climate. The donkey is often seen as a symbol of humility and service, and Jesus' choice to ride a donkey rather than a horse or a chariot was a deliberate act of humility and nonviolence. In a world that often values power and aggression, the example of Jesus' humility and compassion serves as a powerful reminder of the transformative power of love and service.

There are several powerful reminders that are worth reflecting upon: The power of nonviolent resistance, the call to be humble in all our relationships and the call to be of service to our fellow men and women. As we enter Holy Week, we pray for nonviolence in the world and the strength and courage to be humble servants to the Lord and each other.

Fr. Steve
