What's Happening at St Jerome:

Tues 11/5 7:30 pm Mass at St Jerome Church

FROM THE PASTOR:

As human beings, we have a tendency to avoid thinking, talking about, and planning for death. For many, death is their greatest fear. They fear much will be left behind not to mention the mysteriousness of death. We have so many amenities and conveniences and so much sheltering that we rarely encounter the natural phenomenon of death all around us, from the animal and plant kingdoms to the birth and death of galaxies and stars. Because of our anxieties and fears, we revert to avoidance and denial. It can be a tough and painful topic, especially if we've lost those close to us or faced grave illnesses ourselves or among loved ones. Conceptually, we know death is inevitable but that doesn't make it easier to face. In ancient Rome, acknowledging death as an inescapable reality of human existence was seen as a means of promoting humility and wisdom. The Stoics of ancient Greece and Rome encouraged people to contemplate their mortality, because they believed that doing so would lead to a more virtuous and meaningful life.

The month of November in the Church seems to be a month of remembering the dead as All Souls Day is celebrated on November 2. Guardian Angels remembers the deceased over the past year at the 7:00 pm Mass on All Saints Day, St. John Fisher remembers at a Sunday Mass and Immaculate Heart of Mary remembers in a special Mass on Wednesday, November 6 as November 2 in 2024 is a Saturday. We remember as a family of parishes all those who have gone before us this past year and pray for them and their family and friends who have been grieved by their passing. May the souls of the faithful departed through the mercy of God rest in peace.

Fr. Steve

Thanks to everyone's generosity, we have reached the necessary funds for the repairs of the tree and the light at the far end of the parking lot. We encourage everyone to continue contributing to the weekly collection. The repair of the parking lot light is currently on hold as we are awaiting a part that has been ordered and should arrive in 3-4 weeks. The work will be carried out by Curry Electric, the same family-owned company used by GA. They recently prepared the light pole for the new pole and light. Additionally, they trimmed the branches around the existing tree, near the other light. This should significantly enhance the lighting until the other light is back in operation.
